

Annaluigia Boeretto, in art Annalu', was born in San Dona' di Piave (Venice). She started elaborating her very unique and particular artworks at a very young age, whether she attended regularly the Academy of Fine Arts in Venice. A multimedia and multitalented artist, Annalu' is constantly exploring the matter, how it can be transformed, re-elaborated and re-transformed again. She has been involved in different editions of Venice Biennale, while her artworks are exhibited and collected all over the world.

Recent works created by the fervid fantasy of the Italian artist Annalu'. Born and grew up near Venice, the keen material blender has been able to summarize in a very original manner, the atmospheres and the beauties of the noble Venetian tradition.

As the art critic written: "Her spectacular features because of its and illusionism of butterflies, human water flying in the because of the total whole iconography

ancient and artistic

Elaine Kwok has artwork's are not only amazing realism objects like feet, splashed air, etc. but also display of its in all the details of her poetic treatment of color, line, form, composition, and so on. Such spectacular features are extremely eye catching and fascinating as they catch the viewer's attention right away and draw the viewer into the total state of absorption reaching the highest level of theatricality and being absorbed which is what Michael Fried calls "the third level of spectatorship" . Feet made by ice and water; Mandalas built with butterflies, ambiguous orchids, strange bonsai, pierced books and many other artworks.
